Note:

1. Undergraduate students are charged for the first and second semesters. The first semester is from September to January of the following year, and the second semester is from February to June, and the accommodation fee is charged for 5 months; the summer accommodation period is from July to August, and the accommodation fee is charged for two months.
2. During the summer vacation, students from clubs and camps (verified by student ID) and general short-term summer accommodation will be charged an accommodation fee of NT$130 per person per day; summer accommodation for school teams (including cadres in training) will be charged 50% off the above fee standard; social youth/off-campus units will be charged an accommodation fee of NT$270 (tax included) per person per day. Accommodation beds are mainly provided in university dormitories.

3. Graduate dormitory: The fees for the first and second semesters will be charged upon agreement signed on April 15, 2004. The first semester is from September to January of the following year, and the accommodation fee is charged for 5 months. The second semester is from February to August 24, and the accommodation fee is charged for 6 months and 3 weeks.
4. Those who give up their accommodation after the deadline will be charged  $\frac{1}{7}$  of the dormitory fee, and  $\frac{6}{7}$  of the fee will be refunded if they have already paid. For those who do not return to the dormitory after the summer vacation, an additional 50% of the daily accommodation fee will be charged according to the charging standard.
5. Starting from 2025, dormitory expenses will be increased on a rolling basis every two years based on the latest cost and amount change
